Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Current law prohibits a person from intentionally absconding without paying for taxicab service or without paying for beverage, food, lodging, or other service or accommodation at a hotel, motel, campground, boarding or lodging house, or restaurant. If a person is convicted of violating this prohibition and the value of the goods or services was $2,500 or less, he or she is guilty of a misdemeanor and may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned in the county jail for not more than nine months or both. If the value of the goods or services exceeds $2,500, the person is guilty of a felony and the maximum term of imprisonment (consisting of a term of confinement in state prison and a term of extended supervision) increases to three and one-half years. In addition, current law provides for a special civil action for victims of this crime. Using this special civil action, a victim may recover the value of the service or accommodation involved in the crime, any other property damage resulting from the crime, and limited exemplary damages and attorney fees.

SENATE BILL 86

This bill prohibits a person from intentionally absconding from a service station, garage, or other place where gasoline or diesel fuel is offered for retail sale without paying for the gasoline or diesel fuel. A person who violates this prohibition may be subject to a forfeiture (a civil monetary penalty) of not more than $200. The bill also provides that in addition to the forfeiture: 1) for a second offense a court may suspend the person's driver's licenses for not more than six months; 2) for a third offense the court must suspend the person's license for six months; and 3) for a fourth or subsequent offense, the court must suspend the person's license for one year. Finally, with certain modifications, the bill extends the special civil action that covers crimes for absconding for services or accommodations to cover offenses involving absconding without paying for gasoline or diesel fuel.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
