Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, certain forested land may be designated as managed forest land under a program administered by the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). Under this program, the owner of land designated as managed forest land makes an annual acreage share payment instead of the property taxes that normally would be payable. In exchange, the owner must comply with certain forestry practices and must allow the public on the land, with certain exceptions. In addition to the acreage share payment, an owner of managed forest land must pay yield taxes and withdrawal taxes, with some exceptions.

A similar program exists for land designated as forest cropland. Since July 1985, no new land may be subject to the forest cropland program. However, there is forest land that is currently in this program since the designations last for 25 or 50 years.

This bill makes the following changes to the Managed Forest Land Program.

ASSEMBLY BILL 679Exemption from yield taxes

When merchantable timber is cut from managed forest land, a yield tax is imposed on the value of that timber. Under current law, land subject to a managed forest land order that goes into effect on or after April 28, 2004, is exempt from payment of the yield tax. Under current law, this exemption does not apply to land that is converted from forest cropland to managed forest land before the forest cropland designation expires and does not apply to renewals of managed forest land orders. Under this bill, this exemption also does not apply to managed forest land orders that are expanded orders, as described below, or to managed forest land that was previously forest cropland under a forest cropland designation that has expired.

Management plans and fees

In order for a landowner to participate in the Managed Forest Land Program, DNR must approve a management plan that is submitted to DNR before the petition is approved. The management plan includes the owner's forestry objectives and a description of the forestry practices to be used. For petitions submitted before June 1, 2005, DNR must prepare the plan if the petitioner so requested, and the petitioner is exempt from paying the portion of the application fee that represents the cost of preparing the plan if the petition is accompanied by a proposed plan approved by DNR or a proposed plan prepared by a qualified forester. For petitions submitted on or after June 1, 2005, DNR may, but is not required to, prepare the plan. If DNR chooses not to prepare the plan, the petitioner must pay to have a plan prepared by a qualified forester or a plan writer who is certified by DNR, but not under DNR contract, to prepare plans. This bill changes the June 1, 2005, date to July 2, 2005. Beginning November 1, 2005, only plans prepared by certified plan writers will be exempt from paying a plan preparation fee.

Calculation of withdrawal tax

Under current law, an owner of managed forest land who wished to include in a managed forest land order land that does not meet the requirements under the program regarding acreage and the amount of merchantable timber may have the original order expanded to include the land if it is at least three acres in size and if it is contiguous to the existing managed forest land. Under the bill, if land under the expanded order is withdrawn before the original order would have expired, the withdrawal tax is calculated differently than the regular method used. The tax is the sum of the withdrawal tax under the expanded order, less any yield taxes or acreage share payments made, and the withdrawal tax that would have applied to the original acreage as of the date the expanded order goes into effect, less any yield taxes or acreage share payments made.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
