Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a person is guilty of second degree sexual assault if, among other things: 1) he or she has sexual contact or sexual intercourse with an individual (victim) who is under the influence of an intoxicant; 2) as a result of the intoxicant's effects, the victim is incapable of appraising the person's conduct; and 3) the person knows of the victim's condition. In this context, current law defines "intoxicant" to exclude an alcohol beverage, unless it has been combined with a controlled substance, a controlled substance analog, or another drug. A person who commits second degree sexual assault may be fined up to $100,000 or sentenced to a term of imprisonment of up to 40 years, which, if the sentence is for more than one year, includes a term of confinement and a term of extended supervision, or both. This bill amends the definition of "intoxicant" so that it includes an alcohol beverage, without regard for whether it is combined with a controlled substance, a controlled substance analog, or another drug.
