1 AN ACT to amend 70.05 (5) (b); and to create 895.488, 943.13 (4m) (d) and 943.15
2 (1m) of the statutes; relating to: partially exempting an assessor and an
3 assessor's staff from liability for trespassing, creating immunity from civil 4 liability, and changing the notice requirements related to the revaluation of 5 property by an assessor.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Generally under current trespass law, subject to a number of exceptions, a person who enters the land of another, without permission, is subject to a Class B forfeiture. The exceptions include a person authorized to enter land to remove a wild animal and a hunter entering land that is required to be open for hunting. Also under current trespass law, a person who enters the locked or posted construction site of another, without permission, is guilty of a Class A misdemeanor.

This bill creates an exception to certain prohibitions against trespassing. Under this bill, the trespassing prohibitions do not apply to an assessor or an assessor's staff entering the land, or construction site, of another to make an assessment for the state or for a political subdivision (a city, village, town, or county). For the exception to apply, the bill requires the assessor or the assessor's staff to leave in a prominent place notice that the assessor or staff entered the land or construction site, and the assessor or assessor's staff must not have received notice from the owner or occupant of the land not to enter or remain on the premises.

The bill also provides immunity from civil liability for the owner or person in lawful possession of premises for any injury to or death of an assessor or a member of an assessor's staff who enters a construction site without permission to make an assessment. The immunity does not apply if the injury or death resulted from reckless, wanton, or intentional misconduct of the owner or person in lawful possession of the premises.

Under current law, each taxation district is required to assess property at full value at least once every five years. Under this bill, before a city, village, or town (municipal) assessor may conduct a revaluation of property, the municipality must publish a notice on its Web site, or post in at least three public places if it has no Web site, that a revaluation will occur. The notice must state the approximate dates of the revaluations and describe the authority of an assessor to enter land.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

1 SECTION 1. 70.05 (5) (b) of the statutes is amended to read:

7 assessor, under ss. 943.13 and 943.15, to enter land. If a municipality does not have
