Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current administrative rules, the Department of Corrections (DOC) may authorize a person on extended supervision, parole, or probation to temporarily travel out of the state within the United States if the person has submitted a written request and has received written authorization prior to the travel. The current administrative rules allow such persons to travel out of the United States only as authorized by the sentencing court or upon verification of official military orders. This bill allows DOC to also authorize a person on extended supervision, parole, or probation to travel out of the United States under certain circumstances if the person submits a written request and receives written authorization prior to the travel.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:
