Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, an individual must complete a teacher preparatory program approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to qualify for a license to teach under the traditional licensure pathway. A teacher preparatory program is a sequence of courses included in a bachelor's degree program or post baccalaureate degree program designed to prepare individuals for licensure. Current law requires the SSPI to establish standards, requirements, and procedures related to approving teacher preparatory programs.

Under the bill, in order to be approved by the SSPI, a teacher preparatory program must provide at least six credits of instruction in literacy theory, skills, and processes (literacy instruction) to individuals in the program who intend to apply for a license to teach kindergarten to fifth grade, a license to teach special education, a reading teacher license, or a reading specialist license. Under the bill, the literacy instruction must align with the Knowledge and Practice Standards for Teachers of

ASSEMBLY BILL 594

Reading from the International Dyslexia Association. The bill also requires each teacher preparatory program to submit syllabi, names of textbooks, and other instructional material that will be used in the literacy instruction to the Department of Public Instruction prior to offering the required literacy instruction. Finally, under the bill, the SSPI must post on DPI's Internet site the information received from a teacher preparatory program related to the literacy instruction before the teacher preparatory program offers the literacy instruction.

Under current law, DPI must consult with the governor's office, the chairpersons and ranking members of the education committees in the assembly and senate, the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin System, and the Wisconsin Association of Independent Colleges and Universities when performing specific duties related to evaluating teacher preparatory programs. Under the bill, DPI must also consult with the chairpersons and ranking members of the higher education committees in the assembly and senate.
