2 relating to: an online early learning pilot program and making an

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

This bill requires the Department of Public Instruction to award a three-year contract to a service provider to administer an online early learning program to low-income children who reside in three urban school districts selected by DPI and three rural school districts selected by DPI. Under the bill, the service provider must administer the online early learning program during the 2020-21, 2021-22, and 2022-23 school years.

Under the bill, a service provider is a nonprofit organization that has successfully conducted an online early learning program in the past and can demonstrate its past success using independent evaluations. To qualify as an online early learning program, a program must satisfy the following criteria:

1. The program provides computer-based instruction to children on a home computer and includes content in reading, math, and science.
2. The program is designed to improve a child's transition to five-year-old kindergarten and aligned with nationally recognized early learning standards.
3. The program requires parental engagement and involvement that includes interaction with a learning coach.
4. The program evaluates a child's growth over the course of the program.
5. The program provides a participating low-income family with access to a computer and Internet service in the family's home at no cost.

ASSEMBLY BILL 662

Under the bill, during the term of the contract, the service provider must provide an annual report to DPI that includes specific information about who is participating in the program, the number of families requesting and being provided access to a computer or the Internet at home, and how children participating in the program performed on prekindergarten and kindergarten readiness assessments. By October 15, 2023, DPI must compile the information it received for each year of the contract and submit it to the legislature. Finally, the bill requires the service provider selected to administer the online early learning program to provide $500,000 in matching funds during the three-year term of the contract.
