

CHAPTER 125.

[Published March 27, 1865.]

AN ACT defining the limits and boundary of the borough of Fort Howard and the town of Howard, in the county of Brown.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. From and after the fifteenth day of March, 1865, all the following district of country, in the county of Brown, shall be and constitute the borough of Fort Howard, in said county: commencing at that point on the shore of Green Bay, where the line dividing lots one and eleven of the survey of the Fort Howard military reserve, strikes said shore; thence running southwardly in a straight line to the northeast corner of lot number eighty-three; thence westerly on the north line of lots numbered eighty-three, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six, eighty-seven and eighty-eight, to the northwest corner of said lot number eighty-eight; thence southwardly on the west line of lots eighty-eight and one hundred, to the northwest corner of the claim known as the Dousman claim; thence southerly along the rear line of the tract known as the private claims, on the west side of Fox river, at Green Bay, to the southwest corner of private claim number twenty-four; thence eastwardly along the south line of said last mentioned claim, to the channel bank of Fox river; thence down and along the channel bank of said river and the shore of Green Bay, to the place of beginning.

Boundary of the borough of Fort Howard.

SECTION 2. That from and after the fifteenth day of March next, all that district of country bounded north by the north line of town 24, ranges 19 and 20 east, west by the western boundary line of Brown county, southwardly by the Oneida Indian reserve and the line of the borough of Fort Howard, and eastwardly by the line of said borough, as defined in the first section of this act, and the shore of Green Bay, shall be and constitute the town of Howard, in Brown county.

Boundary of the town of Howard.

SECTION 3. So much of chapter 115 of the general laws of 1860, as contravenes any of the provisions of this act, is hereby repealed.

Repeal.

SECTION 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 9, 1865.