“WHEREAS, by an act passed at the session of 1917 the legislature of the state of Wisconsin has provided for the transfer of the management and control of the institution known as the Wisconsin Industrial School for Girls from this corporation to the state board of control; and,

WHEREAS, from time to time this corporation has received bequests and donations of money to be used for the purposes of this corporation, which sums of money have always been kept separate from other funds and, together with a portion of the income from time to time received upon the investment thereof, have been set apart and treated by this corporation as if a trust fund and called “The Benevolent Fund,” the income of which, or so much thereof as has been deemed necessary, has always been used for the benefit of girls committed to the institution managed by this corporation in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and for purposes other than for the ordinary expenses of maintaining said institution; and state of Wisconsin hereafter may establish and maintain for the care, custody, and education of girls of the classes now or hereafter authorized by law to be committed to said institution;

Third: The income of said trust fund shall be used and expended by said officers, board, or body upon the recommendation of the superintendent of said institution exclusively for the benefit of girls committed thereto in providing healthful and instructive recreation and amusements, furnishing advanced educational facilities for such of them as show special fitness therefor, providing needed medical or surgical care in exceptional cases, and other similar purposes, provided, however, that no part of said income shall be used for defraying any of the ordinary expenses of said institution.
