

Assembly Bill 616

Date published:
November 10, 1967

CHAPTER 142, LAWS OF 1967

AN ACT to create 1.031 of the statutes, allowing the governor to accept, on behalf of the state, jurisdiction over lands ceded to the federal government.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

1.031 of the statutes is created to read:

1.031 RETROCESSION OF JURISDICTION. The governor may accept on behalf of the state, retrocession of full or partial jurisdiction over any roads, highways or other lands in federal enclaves within the state where such retrocession has been offered by appropriate federal authority. Documents concerning such action shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state and in the office of the register of deeds of the county wherein such lands are located.

Approved November 1, 1967.
