Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the department of health and social services (DHSS) must investigate the concept of regulating a new category of health care providers known as rural medical centers.

This bill eliminates that provision and establishes rural medical centers as a category of health care providers that, beginning on July 1, 1996, must be licensed, inspected and otherwise regulated by DHSS. Under the bill, a facility may be regulated as a rural medical center if it is organized under a single governing and corporate structure, is located in a county, city, town or village that has a population of less than 15,000 and in an area that the federal bureau of the census has not defined as an urbanized area and if it provides 2 or more health care services. The health care services are those provided by a hospital, a rural primary care hospital (as defined in (the bill), a nursing home, a hospice, a rural health clinic or an ambulatory surgery center; or they are home health services, outpatient physical therapy services, end-stage renal disease services or services that are specified by DHSS by rule.

The bill establishes licensing procedures and requires that DHSS promulgate rules that establish standards for operation of rural medical centers, minimum requirements for license issuance, licensure fee amounts, and procedures and criteria for waiver of or variance from standards and requirements. As part of license issuance, DHSS must inspect the health care services provided by an applying rural medical center, except that DHSS may, instead, accept evidence that an applicant has certain current state licensure or approval, has a current medicare provider agreement, has been designated as a rural primary care hospital or satisfies requirements in DHSS rules. The bill exempts a hospital, nursing home, hospice or home health agency that provides all of its services as part of a licensed rural medical center from obtaining licensure or approval and paying license or approval fees under other state laws. These facilities are not, however, exempted from standards and other regulations for operation under those licensing laws, unless the laws conflict with laws regulating rural medical centers. The bill authorizes DHSS to conduct unannounced inspections of rural medical centers and requires a rural medical center to provide access to any patient health care records necessary to fulfill the purpose of any DHSS inspections or investigations. The bill prohibits an unlicensed entity from using the phrase "rural medical center" to describe itself, prohibits intentional interference with any investigation by DHSS of alleged violations, prohibits certain intentional retaliation or discrimination against employes or patients and prohibits intentional destruction or modification of original inspection reports.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
