Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Current law delegates to municipalities (cities, villages and towns) the authority to issue on-premises liquor licenses, licenses which authorize the sale of intoxicating liquor to be consumed on the premises where sold. Current law imposes a quota on the number of licenses a municipality may issue.

Prior to 1997 Wisconsin Act 27, the biennial budget act, a municipality's quota was determined using a formula, but generally was the number of licenses that were issued by the municipality when the quota was first implemented plus an additional license for each 500 persons residing in the municipality. There were numerous specific exceptions to the quota authorizing municipalities to issue to qualifying premises licenses in excess of the quota. The annual fee for an on-premises intoxicating liquor license was established by the municipality in an amount of $50-$500.

ASSEMBLY BILL 614

1997 Wisconsin Act 27 significantly modified the on-premises liquor license quota law. In general, the act reduced the number of on-premises liquor licenses available to be issued by a municipality by “retiring” one-half of the authorized but unissued on-premises liquor licenses. Unlike other types of alcohol beverage licenses, the act made the remaining on-premises liquor licenses nontransferable from one location to another and established a minimum initial issuance fee of not less than $10,000. A person desiring to obtain an on-premises liquor license may pay at least $10,000 to the municipality for a nontransferable license, or obtain from another person a (transferable) on-premises liquor license that was issued before the enactment of 1997 Wisconsin Act 27.

This bill undoes these changes to the on-premises liquor license quota made by 1997 Wisconsin Act 27. The bill restores the quota law and its exceptions that existed prior to the enactment of that act.
