Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a municipality may, for specified reasons, issue, renew, suspend or revoke an annual license for the retail sale or manufacture of alcohol beverages. A municipality that suspends, revokes or refuses to issue or renew a license must specify the reasons for that action.

Under current law, any applicant for an alcohol beverage license, licensee or resident of the municipality may have a court review the municipality’s action concerning an alcohol beverage license. Court review of the municipality’s action proceeds like any civil lawsuit without a jury. The court receives evidence on the merits of the application, determines facts based on evidence presented to it and issues a binding but appealable decision based on those facts.

This bill changes the procedure for judicial review of a challenged alcohol beverage licensing action in 1st class cities (currently only the city of Milwaukee). Under the bill, the reviewing court may consider as evidence only the records of the proceedings of the common council and its alcohol licensing committee, if any, relating to the action being challenged. The court may not take new evidence, must defer to the committee's or common council's determination of facts and may not delay enforcement of the common council's action pending its review. A common council's lawful exercise of discretion is not reviewable. Under the bill, the reviewing court may consider only the following:

1. Whether the common council exceeded its right or power to interpret and apply the law.
2. Whether the common council proceeded according to law.
3. Whether the common council's action was arbitrary, oppressive or unreasonable and represented its will rather than its judgment.
4. Whether, taking into account all evidence in the record, reasonable minds could arrive at the same conclusion that the common council did.

Following review, the court may entirely affirm the common council's action or send the challenged action back to the common council for further proceedings, but may not modify the common council's action.

The bill also requires a 1st class city to issue a temporary Class "A", "Class A", Class "B" or "Class B" license to a person who makes a late application to renew a valid Class "A", "Class A", Class "B" or "Class B" license and pays $1,500. Class "A" licenses authorize the retail sale of beer for consumption away from the premises where sold (stores); "Class A" licenses authorize the sale of wine and intoxicating liquor for consumption away from the premises where sold; Class "B" licenses authorize the retail sale of beer for consumption on or off the premises where sold (taverns, restaurants and hotels); and "Class B" licenses authorize the retail sale of liquor for consumption on the premises where sold. The temporary licenses are valid until the city's governing body acts on the application for renewal or for a period of 60 days, whichever occurs sooner.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
