Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, the department of commerce (department) must administer a program for certifying electrical contractors and master, journeyman, and beginning electricians. However, current law does not require a person who works as an electrician or electrical contractor to be certified by the department. A city, village, town, or county, though, may enact an ordinance requiring this certification or requiring the electrician or contractor to obtain a license from the municipality.

With certain exceptions, this bill requires every person who performs electrical construction in this state to be licensed by the department as a master, journeyman,

4 SECTION 12. 101.866 of the statutes is created to read:

5 101.866 Regulation of electricians and electrical contractors. (1) (a)

6 Except as provided under sub. (3) and s. 101.87 (3m), no person may act as an 7 electrical contractor in this state unless the person satisfies all of the following:

8 1. The person has an electrical contractor's license issued by the department.

9 An electrical contractor's license does not authorize the licensee to physically 10 perform electrical construction.

11 2. The person is a master electrician licensed by the department or employs a 12 master electrician licensed by the department who is responsible, under the terms 13 of employment, for the performance and supervision of all electrical construction
14 undertaken by the electrical contractor. If the electrical contractor employs a 15 licensed master electrician, the licensed master electrician may not be employed as 16 an electrician by any other electrical contractor or by any person described under 17 sub. (3).

18 3. The person files with the department, and maintains, a bond endorsed by a 19 surety company authorized to do business in this state of not less than $5,000, 20 conditioned upon the electrical contractor's ensuring that all electrical construction 21 the electrical contractor undertakes complies with the Wisconsin State Electrical 22 Code. The bond shall be for the benefit of persons damaged by reason of a failure to 23 so comply.

24 4. The person maintains either a policy of general liability insurance insuring 25 the person in the amount of at least $100,000 per occurrence and $300,000 aggregate

SENATE BILL 470

1 for bodily injury to or death of others because of electrical construction undertaken 2 by the person, and a policy of insurance insuring the person in the amount of at least 3 $25,000 for damage to property because of electrical construction undertaken by the 4 person, or a policy of insurance insuring the person in the amount of at least $300,000 5 per occurrence and $300,000 aggregate for damage to property and bodily injury to 6 or death of others because of electrical construction undertaken by the person. Each 7 policy of insurance shall be issued by an insurer authorized to do business in this 8 state. The person shall file with the department a certificate, issued by the insurer, 9 indicating that the person is in compliance with the applicable portion of this 10 subdivision. An insurer may not cancel a policy of insurance that is the subject of 11 such a certificate unless the insurer provides written notice of cancellation to the 12 department at least 15 days before the date of cancellation.

13 (b) All written requests for permits and inspection made by an electrical 14 contractor shall be signed by a master electrician who satisfies par. (a) 2.

15 (2) Except as provided under sub. (3), no person may perform electrical 16 construction in this state unless the person is licensed by the department as a master, 17 journeyman, or beginning electrician or is an apprentice electrician. The 18 department, by rule, may specify the type of electrical construction that a master, 19 journeyman, or beginning electrician or apprentice electrician is authorized to 20 perform, except as follows:

21 (a) A master electrician may perform any work that a journeyman electrician 22 may perform.

23 (b) An apprentice electrician may perform any work that a beginning 24 electrician may perform.

SENATE BILL 470*SECTION 12

1 (c) No apprentice electrician or beginning electrician may perform electrical 2 construction unless, at all times during which the electrical construction is 3 performed, at least one master or journeyman electrician licensed by the department 4 provides personal supervision at the work site.

5 (d) No apprentice electrician or beginning electrician may supervise electrical 6 construction.

7 (3) This section does not apply to any of the following:

8 (a) A residential property owner.

9 (b) A person who is employed as a maintenance electrician by a single employer
10 and who, within the scope of employment, is engaged in maintaining or repairing 11 electrical wiring, apparatus, or equipment owned or leased by the employer and 12 located on premises owned or leased by the employer.

13 (c) An employer of an employee described under par. (b), if electrical 14 construction performed by the employee is undertaken incidental to the employer's 15 performing the primary functions of its business.

16 (d) A person engaged in planning, installing, maintaining, or repairing wiring, 17 apparatus, or equipment for elevators or escalators.

19 organized under ch. 185 for the purpose of producing or furnishing heat, light, power, 20 or water to its members only, a telecommunications carrier, as defined in s. 196.01 21 (8m), a commercial mobile radio service provider, as defined in s. 196.01 (2g), or an 22 alternative telecommunications utility under s. 196.01 (1d), and any person who is 23 employed by or a subcontractor of such an entity and who is engaged in electrical 24 construction within the scope of the person's employment or contract.

SENATE BILL 470

1 (f) A business engaged in the installation, maintenance, or repair of equipment 2 and systems operating at 50 volts or less and any person who is employed by such 3 an entity and who is engaged in electrical construction within the scope of the 4 person's employment.

5 (g) A person engaged in planning, installing, maintaining, or repairing an 6 electronic system designed to monitor a premises for the presence of, detect and 7 summon aid for, or issue an alarm as a result of, an emergency, such as fire, burglary, 8 or intrusion.

9 (h) A person engaged in planning, installing, maintaining, or repairing 10 communications circuits or communications cabling.

11 (i) A person who is engaged in planning, installing, maintaining, or repairing 12 manufactured systems designed to provide a function to a building that is not 13 primarily electrical in nature. This paragraph does not apply to a person who is 14 engaged in planning, installing, maintaining, or repairing wiring that delivers 15 electric current to a manufactured system.
