1 Relating to: supporting Wisconsin agricultural autonomy and food security.

2 Whereas, the state of Wisconsin has a rich and storied history of agricultural 3 production and a thriving agricultural industry; and

4 Whereas, agriculture is the second largest industry in Wisconsin—contributing 5 approximately $105 billion to the state’s economy—and a significant driver of 6 national and international exportation of agricultural products; and

7 Whereas, the agricultural sector plays a pivotal role in furnishing nutritious 8 food and other resources to the population; and

9 Whereas, certain states have enacted laws imposing production standards and 10 criteria for agricultural products that prohibit the sale of agricultural products that 11 do not conform to these arbitrary requirements; and

12 Whereas, such laws can have significant repercussions, potentially 13 destabilizing the U.S. food supply chain and hindering agricultural product sales; 14 and
