

cause by a jury, in the same manner as other jury causes are tried in said court.

Return to be made to court. SEC. 4. If a return shall not be made by the register, according to law, either party may file with the clerk of the circuit court an affidavit stating that such appeal has been duly made, and that the register has failed to make his return to such court, according to law; whereupon the court may compel such return by order or attachment.

Court can compel to amend return. SEC. 5. Upon satisfactory evidence that the return of the register is substantially erroneous or defective, or does not contain all the evidence submitted to him, the court may in like manner compel him to amend the same.

Register may issue certificate. SEC. 6. The court in which any such appeal shall be tried, shall make an order that the register issue a certificate for the land in question to the successful party, and award costs against the losing party, and enter judgment therefor against said party and his sureties.

May be removed to supreme court. SEC. 7. The cases provided for in this act may be removed to the supreme court by a appeal or writ of error, as in other cases; and the said court shall, on the hearing of any such case, by order, affirm or reverse the order of the court below.

Certificate to be issued. SEC. 8. Upon the service of a copy of the order mentioned in either of the foregoing sections, certified by the clerk of the proper court, the register shall issue a certificate to the successful party.

SEC. 9. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its publication.

Approved, February 1, 1853.
