

deemed, or shall be sold by the county, or until all tax certificates thereon, belonging to the county, shall have been assigned."

SEC. 3. Section twenty-one (21), of the act of which this is amendatory, is hereby amended by inserting, after the word "redemption," at the end of the ninth line of said section, the following words, viz: "And before the same shall be entered on the sale list aforesaid, or delivered to the person so redeeming."

SEC. 4. Section twenty-four (24), of the said act, of which this is amendatory, is hereby so amended as to read as follows: "Section 24. If there shall be a loss, or wrongful detention, of any such certificate, and the land therein described shall have been redeemed, any person may exhibit, to the clerk of the board of supervisors, evidence of such loss or detention, and upon his making the same satisfactorily appear to such clerk, and executing to him a bond, with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the clerk of the board of supervisors, that such person will refund such redemption money, with twelve per cent. interest thereon, if any other person will thereafter show his right thereto, such clerk shall pay such redemption money to the person so executing such bond."

Redemption money may be paid to person from whom certificate has been withheld on proof.

SEC. 5. The Secretary of State is hereby directed to cause this act to be immediately published, and this act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

To be published and take effect.

Approved February 25, 1860.

CHAPTER 54.

[Published February 29, 1860.]

AN ACT relating to the publication of legal notices.

The People of the State of Wisconsin, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In all cases where the publication of any summons, order of court, notice of sale, or other notice required by law to be published, shall have been commenced in any newspaper, and before the expiration of the time for which such summons, order or notice, was required to be published, shall have expired, the title, name, or style of the newspaper in which such publication was commenced, shall have been changed, and such publication shall have been continued in such newspaper, under its new name or style, for the residue of the time required by law for the publication, such publication shall be deemed to be, and shall be, as valid, legal, and effectual as if no change in the name of the said newspaper had been made.

Change of title name or style of paper not to affect validity of publication.

Change of title of paper not to affect publication after the passage of this act. SEC. 2. In all cases where, after the passage of this act, the publication of any summons, order of court, notice of sale, or other notice required by law to be published in a newspaper, shall be commenced, and before the expiration of the time for which such publication is required by law to be made, the name, style, or title of such newspaper shall be changed, it shall [be] lawful to continue such publication, in such paper, under its new name, or style, for the residue of the time for which such publication is required to be had; and such publication shall be deemed, and shall be, as valid, legal, and effectual, as if no change in the name or style of said newspaper had been made.

How affidavit of publication to be made. SEC. 3. In all cases mentioned in the first and second sections of this act, where the affidavit of publication shall be made after this act takes effect, the affidavit shall state the length of time which such publication was had under each of the names of the said newspaper: Provided, that when the affidavit shall have been made before this act shall take effect, it shall be deemed sufficient if it appear therefrom that the publication was had for the length of time required by law.

To take effect. SEC. 4. This act shall be published immediately, as required by law, and shall be in force from and after such publication.

Approved February 25, 1860.