CHAPTER 182.

[Published April 3, 1862.]

AN ACT to secure to married women and others the benefit of insurance on lives.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows :

SECTION 1. It shall be lawful for any married woman to cause to be insured for her sole use, the life of her husband, her son, or any other person, for any definite period, or for the time of the natural life of such husband, son or other persons [person;] and in case of her insuring such husband, son or other person, the sum or net amount of the insurance becoming due and payable by the terms of the insurance, shall be payable to, and for the sole use of such married woman, free and exempt from the claims of the representatives of such husband, son or other person, or of their or any of their creditors, respectively : provided, that such exemption shall not apply where the amount of the premium annually paid shall exceed three hundred dollars, unless it shall appear that such premium shall have been paid out of the moneys or funds belonging to such married woman ; and provided, further, that such exemption shall apply to the insurance money covered by the premium annually paid up to and including the sum of three hundred dollars.

Married woman may insure for her own use the life of her husband, son, &c.

Provisos.

In case of her death, &c.

SECTION 2. In case of the death of such married woman, before the decease of such husband, son or other person, the amount of such insurance may be made payable after such death, to her children, for their use, or to their guardian, if minors under the age of twenty-one years.
