

CHAPTER 190.

[Published April 2, 1864.]

AN ACT to confer certain powers on the Chicago and Milwaukee railway company,

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That the Chicago and Milwaukee railway company, a corporation for railroad purposes, existing in this state, by the consolidation of the Milwaukee and Chicago railroad company of this state, with the Chicago and Milwaukee railroad company of the state of Illinois, is hereby authorized, for the purpose of obtaining right of way or depot grounds for its railroad, to exercise the same powers of entering upon and condemning lands, when the same cannot be obtained by agreement with the owners thereof, which were vested in said Milwaukee and Chicago railroad company, under the general and special laws of this state. Said company is also authorized to extend its tracks to such point in the city of Milwaukee as its board of directors shall deem necessary for the purpose of obtaining more advantageous depot accommodations: provided, that such extension shall not pass along the line of any streets or alleys of said city, without the assent of the common council thereof.

SECTION 2. The board of directors of said company shall, by their by-laws, fix the manner in which the stock of said company shall be issued and transferred, the manner and place in which the stock, books and accounts of said company shall be kept, the time and place for holding the meetings of said board and of the stockholders of said company.

SECTION 6. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved March 28, 1864.
