

Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture and Federal Administrator of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and to each representative and senator from Wisconsin in the Congress of the United States.

[Jt. Res. No. 25, S.]

[Received and filed January 20, 1934.]

No. 48, 1933.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Relating to safety on highways.

WHEREAS, The loss of life and injury to people on our public highways is of serious concern; and

WHEREAS, Every possible effort should be made to keep such accidents at a minimum, and every rule adopted that will make highway travel safer; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the highway commission is hereby directed to appoint two persons within its organization and the public service commission is hereby directed to appoint one person in its organization, to be a committee, a part of whose duty shall be to collect, secure and assemble all possible data in regard to accidents on public highways and safety measures adopted by other states to the end that the 1935 legislature may have all possible information that may be used in the drafting of further safety highway legislation.

Resolved further, That suitable copies of this resolution be transmitted to the highway commission and to the public service commission.

[Jt. Res. No. 26, S.]

[Received and filed January 20, 1934.]

No. 49, 1933.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Congratulating Honorable John J. Blaine for his services in proposing the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution.

WHEREAS, Honorable John J. Blaine was the father of the resolution in the Congress of the United States which submitted the question of repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution to a popular vote in the several states; and

WHEREAS, Throughout the history of the Eighteenth Amendment, Mr. Blaine never wavered in his opinion that this amendment, proposed and adopted without a popular vote, was an assault upon democratic government, and courageously defended this principle at times and places when he stood practically alone; and

WHEREAS, Wisconsin is proud to acknowledge that a citizen of this state was for many years the leading proponent of personal liberty against the unjust, unpopular Eighteenth Amendment; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That this Legislature, recalling the purpose for which it has been convened in special session, pause to acknowledge the courage and service of John J. Blaine in making repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment a reality and to congratulate him for the successful and prominent part he took in this great accomplishment. Be it further

Resolved, That a properly attested copy of this resolution be sent to Honorable John J. Blaine.

[Jt. Res. No. 42, S.]

[Received and filed January 20, 1934.]

No. 51, 1933.

JOINT RESOLUTION

Memorializing the Congress of the United States to establish uniform rules and regulations for the movement of all commodities in interstate commerce.

WHEREAS, The federal constitution specifically provides that no state shall, without the consent of Congress, lay any imposts or duties on imports or exports, except what may be absolutely necessary for executing its inspection laws; and

WHEREAS, A number of states have been, and are now, providing embargoes on live stock, live stock products, dairy products, nursery plants, and other commodities under the pretense that such embargoes are necessary for executing their respective inspection laws; and

WHEREAS, Such embargoes have been, and now are, a serious handicap to the agricultural industry in this state; and

WHEREAS, The Congress of the United States, under its constitutional power to regulate commerce among the several states,