CHAPTER 521.

AN ACT to amend chapter 295, laws of 1941, section 1, as last amended by chapter 553, laws of 1943, relating to appeal from and review of certain final orders and judgments made by any district court, which is a court of record, or the judge thereof.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Chapter 295, laws of 1941, section 1, as last amended by chapter 553, laws of 1943, is amended to read:

(Chapter 295, laws of 1941) Section 1. There is conferred upon the judge of the district court in any county having a district court which is a court of record, all of the powers with respect to the examination of persons alleged to be insane or feebleminded either at the time of the commission of an offense properly within the jurisdiction of said district court or at the time of trial thereof, as provided by sections 357.11 and 357.13 of the statutes, except that persons charged merely with the violation of local ordinances and found insane shall be committed as provided by section 51.05 of the statutes. Any final order or judgment of the district judge hereunder may be reviewed at any time by the district court, and an appeal taken therefrom, as if the original order or judgment of the district judge had been appealable. Such appeal shall be first to the municipal court of the county and then to the supreme court.

Approved July 18, 1949.
