CHAPTER 170

AN ACT to create 59.485 of the statutes, relating to permitting a district attorney to serve as town, village or city attorney.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

59.485 of the statutes is created to read:

59.485 MAY BE TOWN OR VILLAGE ATTORNEY. A district attorney who is not compensated by the county on a full-time basis may serve as town or village attorney, or as city attorney in any county having a population of less than 40,000. In cases where conflicts arise as the result of his being employed by a governmental unit other than the county, the district attorney shall withdraw from such other employment and shall represent only the interest of the county.

Approved June 11, 1957.
