RECESS

9:40 P.M.

President pro tempore in the chair.

The question was: Shall the bill pass?

Senator Hollander in the chair.

President pro tempore in the chair.

Upon request of Senator Terry, with unanimous consent, the following speech on the budget bill by Senator Lotto, in the form of a prayer, was ordered spread in the journal.

Mr. President and fellow Senators, my brothers, I am inspired here this evening at the time when we stand on the threshold of the passage of our state budget. I am inspired to offer a simple prayer—a prayer of thanks:

Thank you Lord, for the predictables of this Senate—the Conservatives who through their convictions have provided us with the strong, unrelenting base, the staunch foundation on which our State budget is constructed. We thank you for their presence here during this budget session.

And Lord, we thank you (but certainly not so fervently) that you have seen fit to give use a few Liberals—those flighty, but not angelic, devil-may-care, talkative individuals who represent the minority party in the Senate. These are the irresponsible spenders who would, if their numbers were greater, add frills upon frills—the gold plumbing, the carpeted stairs, to our budget structure and then make no attempt to provide the means to finance their dream home. They have provided the ceiling that the majority have tried not to hit.

But most of all, we thank you Lord for the Moderates. Those who build upon the strong foundation set by the Conservatives. Those who are not enticed by the guiles of the Liberals. Those who in this body through their wisdom outnumber both the Conservatives and the Liberals. It is the Moderates who provide the steel, the concrete, the brick and mortar for our budget building. Who understand the need and necessity for this material. It is the Moderates who know their duty; who must have the courage to set the fee, the tax, that must be charged and collected at the door of their completed structure. Collected from the citizens of this great state who seek, need, expect and demand the shelter, the services, the benefits that this budget structure provides.

Now, we thank you Lord for providing the citizens, the voters, the taxpayers of this state with the wisdom to select as their representatives in this Senate just about the right number of Conservatives, Liberals and Moderates so that the best possible budget is passed by this Senate.
