If so, what guarantees of adequate maintenance of the drainage ditches are to be provided farmers dependent on such ditches?

2. Is control of a drainage district in counties which are also soil conservation districts exercised by the drainage district commissioners or the soil conservation district personnel?

3. If a water-shed is formed in a drainage district operating under chapter 89, laws of 1961, are dam regulations for dams on drainage ditches to be determined by the drainage district commissioners, the department of natural resources or the soil conservation district personnel?
