Remarks by Senate President Brian D. Rude
Senate Restoration Project
Thursday, November 16, 1995

Today marks the last time the State Senate will meet in this beautiful room until the opening of the 1999 session. The current Senate Chamber was first occupied January 8, 1913. In accepting the position of President Pro Tempore, Senator H. C. Martin marked the occasion by saying "This building will grow in beauty and grandeur as the arrangements are perfected and everything is fixed as it will be eventually, for the Senate of the State of Wisconsin."

The Governor reported to the legislature "That very satisfactory progress has been made to the construction of the capitol is apparent to all. It calls therefore for no extended discussion. the work has been carried on almost as rapidly as available funds would permit and fully as fast as was originally planned. In view of what has already been done no one longer doubts that when the structure is complete Wisconsin will have one of the finest public buildings in America.”

As we relocate out of the building for the next three years, a move that none of us are particularly excited about, I will read to you a resolution that was adopted on January 12, 1911.

Whereas, The room designated for the accommodation of the state senate is inadequate on account of improper heating and ventilation, and is lacking in many other respects, so as to make it not only inconvenient and uncomfortable, but also an unhealthful place for the senate to meet in.

Resolved by the senate, That the superintendent of public property at his earliest convenience designate and prepare a more suitable place for the senate to hold its sessions. It is suggested that the old supreme court room would be a much more sanitary and convenient place than the present quarters.

Our colleagues in the past made the sacrifice to create this beautiful room, now it is our turn to allow it to be restored for future generations. Our temporary relocation will be much better than that afforded our colleagues.

When the Senate convenes on January 9, 1996 in the temporary chamber located in the 119 Martin Luther King Building, it will be the first time in 82 years that the Senate will not meet in this room.

I hope that all of us will have the honor and privilege of serving in the Senate when the Senate once again convenes in this room, restored to all of its grandeur. It will truly be a monument to democracy.

Upon adjournment please join me in the Senate parlor to toast the start of the restoration of the South wing.

Senator Ellis, with unanimous consent, asked that all action be messaged to the Assembly.
