AN EXTENDED SCHOOL YEAR
 IS THE WAVE OF THE FUTURE...
 CATCH THE WAVE

180 days of school is the norm for American School children. However, with the continued publicity that students from other industrialized nations are out performing our students on math and science tests, it is time for the American school system, and the public at large, to take a close look at how little time our children spend in the classroom.

Dear Senator Potter:

Re: Opposition to SB 90 (Labor Day Mandate for Schools)

Thank you for providing me the opportunity to testify against SB 90 during the public hearing last week. The legislation jeopardizes the implementation of the new MPS two year calendar; prohibits Congress Year Round School from having a year round calendar; and stifles innovative year round and extended year school programs.

As promised, enclosed is the school year calendar for Congress (which will complete its first year in June) along with information about the program. The principal, Mary Beth Minkley, mentioned some noticeable changes to me. First, parental involvement, participation and positive interaction with staff increased. The number of students sent to the office for discipline decreased. Finally, there is greater staff satisfaction and more time available for planning and other activities.

I urge you to vote no on SB 90. If you would like to visit Congress Year Round School, please contact me.

Sincerely,

Dear Sen. Shibilski:

This morning I checked with the Minnesota School Boards Association on their law requiring schools to start after Labor Day. Although their legislative staff were at the state capitol, I was able to get some information from their legal staff.

Minnesota passed this law sometime in the late 1980's or early 1990's. Minnesota's law has a waiver provision. The person that I spoke with said that a school district needed to ask either the State Board of Education or the State Legislature for a waiver from this law (the legal staff member that I spoke with could not remember specifically which entity needed to grant the waiver). Every year there are about 8-10 requests for such waivers. Many of these requests focus on specific situations involving school building/remodeling projects that require a change in the calendar.

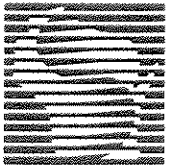

The legal staff that I spoke with did say that there currently is a bill working its way through the Minnesota Legislature that would exempt all school districts in the state from this law for the next two years, because of how late in the week Memorial Day will fall during these two years. There was agreement on this bill from both the Minnesota School Boards Association and all of the associations representing tourism industries. However, some local tourism operators did not know what their associations had agreed to and are now a little upset. The bill is expected to pass.

If you have any questions, or need any additional information please feel free to contact me at (608) 257-2622.

Dear Chairman Potter:

Establishing a date for the beginning of the school year has been the subject of legislation for many years. Now, Senate Bill 90, which is scheduled for a public hearing on April 23, 1997, would prohibit the start of the school year until after Labor Day in public schools. While SB 90 does not currently include the University of Wisconsin System, previous legislation has included University students. The position of UW students, staff and the Board of Regents on this issue has remained constant over the years. In short, academic calendars should be determined on the educational needs of students rather than the needs of the tourism industry.

In 1985, when the tourism industry was lobbying for a mandated post-Labor Day start, the current September 1 date was imposed on the University System as a compromise. This mandate has created scheduling problems for students in years in which Labor Day occurs "late."

The UW academic calendars should allow for a reasonable balance in the length of each semester. This provides for equal coverage of subjects, keeps credit hours comparable, and ensures that in sequential courses, the initial semester adequately prepares students for the following semester's course work. Regent policy has set 34 weeks of instruction for students, with each semester averaging 17 weeks. In years when Labor Day is late, less than 16 weeks remain before Christmas. Requiring a post-Labor Day start makes two even semesters divided with a break at Christmas, impossible to achieve. The practice of extending the first semester beyond the Christmas holiday has virtually been abandoned by all of America's universities.

The result of mandating a late academic start date would be to force students to have final exams after the Christmas holiday. Then, after finals, students would have a semester break in the middle of January. For students wishing to travel home for the holidays and semester break, double travel expenses would be incurred.

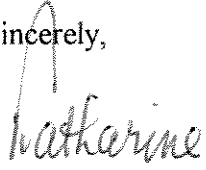

The alternative to postponing final exams until after Christmas would be to shorten the fall semester and lengthen the spring semester. A shorter fall semester would academically shortchange students. Students taking a given course in the fall should receive the same amount of instruction as students taking the same course in the spring. Continuing the fall semester beyond the holidays also creates a problem for students transferring in to, or out of, UW System institutions. The vast majority of other post-secondary institutions use the regular semester calendar.

Additionally, delaying the start of classes until after Labor Day would create new problems at the end of the academic year. Forcing a later graduation date could place students at a disadvantage. Students graduating in mid-May have a competitive edge in the job market compared to students who graduate in June. The current calendar also benefits students seeking summer employment in such areas as agriculture, tourism and construction.

Only a small fraction of UW students work in the tourism industry. However, the UW currently recognizes and allows for students who need to work over the Labor Day weekend. Students are not penalized for missing classes if they have to work over the Labor Day weekend. The UW also accommodates students by beginning registration in the spring and allowing students to add courses early in the fall semester.

I hope you find this information helpful as the Senate Committee on Education considers SB 90 and you will oppose new start date requirements on the UW System.

Sincerely,

Katharine C. Lyall

Testimony
Mary Ann Braithwaite, WFT President
Opposed to SB90
to
Senate Education Committee
April 23, 1997

The Wisconsin Federation of Teachers strongly opposes SB90, requiring that no public school may commence its school term until after Labor Day.

- Do we really want to send the message that tourism is more important than education in Wisconsin? That we are more concerned about having adequate numbers of burger flippers, bed changers and young customers for certain parts of our tourism industry than we are in education? Any academic change should come from an academic rationale.
- Do we believe in local control in Wisconsin or don't we? Who knows their communities better than their school boards and the teachers who work there?
- Talk about unfunded mandates! Why should school districts all over the state have to juggle their academic and extracurricular calendars to accommodate a business need in only a few parts of Wisconsin? Madison and Milwaukee wouldn't benefit from SB90, but their programs will be forced to fit a problem in Wisconsin Dells. Forcing the school year into June would be one result, yet who will pay to air condition older Wisconsin schools to make it possible for education to go on in them in hot weather?
- We keep hearing over and over that even though Wisconsin is among the top states in the country in the quality of our public education, that isn't good enough: we need to compete globally. We need to have the best educated work force in the world. While we know we're all way above average here, it's hard to believe that we can be the world's best with 180 days of instruction, while the world standard is 240 or more. SB90 would prevent districts and their teachers interested in a longer school year, perhaps even year-round schooling, as is being tried in other states. In the long run, SB90 will drag us toward mediocrity if we ignore the national and international trends to longer school years.
- Wisconsin is facing a labor shortage as far into the future as anyone can see. We need to make the most of the population we already have. Clearly the 180 day school year is not enough to prepare some students for the world of work. We can't afford to waste any of our potential talent. Who knows what proposals may be negotiated in the future? But surely, it doesn't take a rocket scientist to recognize that more education in the summer would surely help many students. Do we really want to toss away this potential for a few more full beds and eaten burgers around Labor Day?

SB90 School Opening Date TESTIMONY

Senate Education Committee

April 23, 1997

The Wisconsin Innkeepers Association, a non-profit trade association representing over 1,000 hotels, motels, resorts, inns and bed & breakfasts throughout Wisconsin, encourages the Senate Education Committee to support SB90, a bill which allows local school boards to establish K-12 school starting dates anytime after Labor Day.

SB90 takes into account the following important facts:

- * Public survey polls have found that the general public overwhelmingly prefers schools to start after Labor Day
- * Other midwestern states require school openings after Labor Day
- * Local school boards would still have the full power to control
  - The exact starting date (anytime after Labor Day)
  - School ending dates
  - Vacation dates
  - Teacher in-service dates
  - Teacher convention dates
- * The quality and quantity of education would not be impacted, as the number of total school days remains the same
- * Students sitting in classrooms without air conditioning should have less discomfort and distraction by scheduling to coincide with Wisconsin's natural weather pattern.

From a Wisconsin business perspective, SB90 also makes sense:

- * The tourism industry is one of the top three industries in the state, with travelers spending over $8 billion in Wisconsin in 1996 alone. Why is this important to anyone outside the tourism industry? The revenue generated by the tourism industry in state sales tax, which subsidizes many non-tourism related programs, was $268 million in 1995. When the tourism industry improves, so does available funding for state programs.
- * The tourism industry is not allowed to achieve it's full potential with current pre-Labor Day School Starting Dates due to
  - Loss of family vacation business at the end of August
  - Reduction in available employees
- * The school starting date after Labor Day would improve the profitability of the tourism industry, which in turn will increase sales tax revenue to the state for important programs and services

SB90 offers a practical solution to a business problem that does not hurt the education of our students and can even help the state. Please support SB90.

SB 90

Senate Education Committee

Wednesday, April 23, 1997
9:00 a.m.

My name is Paul Endres with the Department of Public Instruction. Thank you for the opportunity to testify. The department is testifying in opposition to AB 90.

1. Sixteen (16) districts started school after Labor Day of the 1996-97 school year.
2. This shows that school boards are willing to listen to the community and start after Labor Day if they believe it is in the best interests of the community.
3. The start of the school year has always been a local control issue. This bill would take away that power.
4. Starting school after Labor Day may become an issue in negotiations for other concessions which could be cost items for school districts.
5. There may be additional costs to school districts for added heating or cooling costs depending on when the days would be held.
6. There may be additional transportation costs to school districts for private schools which would not be bound by this proposal.
7. Starting school after Labor Day may have an impact on the number of kids participating in extra curricular activities.
8. AB 39 proposes "no snow" days, which coupled with this bill could extend a school year well into June.
9. Expanding the school year has been suggested in the past and although not adopted would be in conflict with this proposal.
10. What about other legitimate interests or businesses that could ask for other periods of time that school should not be held such as Thanksgiving season, holiday shopping season, spring break, spring planting season, fall harvest and etc.
