Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate
Under current law, a county may obtain reimbursement for certain expenses incurred in confining a person. A person sentenced to a county jail or confined in a county jail as a condition of probation may be assessed these charges and the county may make deductions from the prisoner's canteen account. This bill authorizes counties to recoup the cost of fingerprinting, photographing, assessing and evaluating a person and collecting information from the person at the start of the person's confinement in the jail. If the prisoner has an institutional account, the jailer may deduct any jail processing assessment fees charged to the prisoner. The money collected shall be deposited in the county treasury. This proposed bill will have no fiscal impact on the Department of Corrections. If counties begin to charge for booking costs, they will experience increased costs and should also experience increased revenues. The increased costs would be associated with the start-up of a system for assessing a booking fee. There would also be increased costs due to increased collections. It is not possible to determine the likelihood of cost recovery, and therefore it is not possible to calculate the amount of revenue that will be generated by counties. Because each county will experience different cost increases and revenue increases, we are not able to estimate the local government fiscal effect of this legislation.
