DRAFTER'S NOTE FROM THE LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

October 19, 1998

This draft permits the legislature to impose reasonable limits on campaign expenditures for state or local elective offices. If the legislature were to impose such a limitation before a corresponding change in the U.S. Constitution is made, the limitation may not be enforceable in view of the position of the U.S. supreme court that a campaign spending limit burdens a candidate's right to freedom of speech. See Buckley v. Valeo, et al., 96 S.Ct. 612, 652–652 (1976) and F. E.C. v. N.C.P.A.C., 105 S.Ct. 1459, 1465–1471 (1985).

I know that this draft is designed to confront these decisions and to encourage rethinking of them. Because a number of personalities have changed on the court since these decisions were issued, it is possible that the court might be persuaded to take a second look at these decisions. I would, however, expect the lower federal courts to continue to apply these decisions until the U.S. supreme court decides to revisit them.
