Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Currently, unless otherwise provided by law, a state agency must provide public access to information contained in its records unless the agency demonstrates that the public interest in withholding access to that information outweighs the strong public interest in providing access. In addition, no state agency may sell or rent any record containing an individual's name or address of residence, unless specifically authorized by state law.

This bill provides, in addition, that no state agency may sell or rent, for purposes of solicitation, any record containing information that can be associated with a particular individual who is a minor if the information is derived from a list or other records series containing ten or more names, unless specifically authorized by state law. The bill also prohibits any person from using, for purposes of solicitation, any information that can be associated with a particular individual who is a minor if the information is derived from a list or records series containing ten or more names and if the information was obtained from a state agency. Violators are subject to a forfeiture (civil penalty) not exceeding $500 for each violation.
