Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Current law requires the driver of every vehicle transporting waste or foreign matter on the highways of this state to provide adequate facilities to prevent such waste or foreign matter from spilling on or along the highways. This state's supreme court has held that this law was not intended to establish a standard of due care to be applied in negligence actions, so a violation of this law is not a sufficient basis for imposing liability for damages caused by the spilled waste or foreign matter. Kalkopf v. Donald Sales & Mfg. Co., 33 Wis.2d 247, 256 (1967).

This bill makes a person who spills waste or foreign matter from his or her vehicle on or along the highway liable for any harm to another user of the highway or another vehicle caused by the spilled waste or foreign matter.

This bill requires that a load of bulk material, such as sand, gravel or dirt, that is not in containers be covered to prevent the load from dropping or sifting from the vehicle when transported on a highway. Failure to comply with this provision also may result in a forfeiture of not less than $10 nor more than $200.

This requirement does not apply to bulk material being applied to a highway for highway construction or maintenance or for winter snow or ice treatment.

SENATE BILL 265

Under current law, privately owned motor trucks and semitrailers that are equipped with dump bodies and operated on a highway between cities are not required to be equipped with rear fenders or mudguards. This bill requires such vehicles to be equipped with mudguards. The bill establishes minimum specifications for mudguards on vehicles transporting sand, gravel, dirt, rock, refuse or similar bulk material. Failure to comply with the requirement of mudguards on these vehicles may result in a forfeiture of not less than $100 nor more than $200.
