Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill directs the Department to provide a trade masters pilot program to recognize advanced training and post-apprenticeship achievements in three trades, crafts or businesses, one of which must be in the industrial sector, one in the construction sector and one in the service sector of the economy. The bill provides $175,000 on a one-time basis for the pilot program. The funding under this bill would be used as follows: $75,000 for curriculum development and related work with the technical colleges; $75,000 to support the pilots, including sponsor costs and costs to the participants in the pilots; and $25,000 for marketing the program. Staff support estimated at 0.40 FTE ($24,000) for the project will be absorbed by the Department. Additional staff support will be absorbed by the Wisconsin Technical College System Board. Industry representatives will be used as advisors to this project.

In addition, the bill provides one-time funding of $125,000 to provide promotional materials directed at encouraging youth to participate in apprenticeship programs. Staff support of 0.10 FTE ($6,000) required for the development of these materials will also be absorbed by the Department.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

Once developed there should be no additional costs. However, once the pilots are completed and if they are shown to be successful, the program could be expanded to other trades. If expanded, additional funds may be needed to oversee the program.
