which provides that a person who is the subject of a petition under ch. 980 has the right to his or her own experts whenever he or she is subject to an examination under ch. 980. The language added changed the focus of the statute so much (from the right of the person subject to the petition to a general statute concerning examinations by experts) that this draft renumbers s. 980.03 (4) to be part of a new statute governing examinations (proposed s. 980.031) and puts the new language suggested in the drafting instructions into the same new statute. You should review proposed s. 980.031 and its interaction (if any) with other examination previsions in ss. 980.04(3), 980.07(1) and 980.09(1)(b) and (2)(b) and in proposed s. 980.033(2) to make sure all of the examination provisions effect your intent. It may be better to eliminate the examination language in some or all of these provisions, expand the language of s. 980.031 and then simply cross-reference proposed s. 980.031, if that would effect your intent.

980.033 Competency proceedings. (1) PROCEEDINGS. (a) The court shall proceed under this section whenever there is reason to doubt the competency to proceed of a person who is the subject of a petition filed under s. 980.02.

- (b) Except as provided in par. (c), the court shall not proceed under sub. (2) until it has found that there is probable cause to believe that the person is a sexually violent person. The finding may be based upon the petition or, if the person submits an affidavit stating with particularity that the allegations of the petition are materially false, upon the petition and the evidence presented at a hearing ordered by the court. The person may call and cross—examine witnesses at a hearing under this paragraph but the court shall limit the issues and witnesses to those required for determining probable cause. If the court finds that there is no probable cause to believe that the person is a sexually violent person, it shall dismiss the petition and order that the person be released, except that if the court dismisses the petition based on a defect in the petition the court may order that the person be held in custody for not more than 72 hours pending the filing of a new petition.

Any outpatient examination under this paragraph shall be conducted in a jail or a locked unit of a facility. In any case under this paragraph in which the department of corrections determines that an inpatient examination is necessary, the 15-day period under par. (c) begins upon the arrival of the person at the inpatient facility. If an outpatient examination is begun by or through the department of corrections and the department of corrections later determines that an inpatient examination is necessary, the sheriff shall transport the person to the inpatient facility designated by the department of corrections unless the person has not been detained or otherwise placed in custody under s. 980.04 or 980.06.

The report shall not be otherwise disclosed prior to the hearing under this subsection.
- (b) If the district attorney or the department of justice, whichever filed the petition, the person and the person's attorney waive their respective opportunities to present other evidence on the issue, the court shall promptly determine the person's competency and, if at issue, competency to refuse medication or treatment for the person's mental condition on the basis of the report filed under sub. (3) or (5). In the absence of these waivers, the court shall hold an evidentiary hearing on the issue. At the commencement of the hearing, the judge shall ask the person whether he or she claims to be competent or incompetent. (b) When the court discharges a person from commitment under par. (a), it may order that the person be taken immediately into custody by a law enforcement official and promptly delivered to a facility specified in s. 51.15 (2), an approved public treatment facility under s. 51.45 (2) (c) or an appropriate medical or protective placement facility. Thereafter, detention of the person shall be governed by s. 51.15, 51.45 (11) or 55.06 (11), as appropriate. The district attorney or corporation counsel may prepare a statement meeting the requirements of s. 51.15 (4) or (5), 51.45 (13) (a) or 55.06 (11) based on the allegations of the petition filed under s. 980.02 and the evidence in the case. This statement shall be given to the director of the facility to which the person is delivered and filed with the circuit court where it shall suffice,

- without corroboration by other petitioners, as a petition for commitment under s. 51.20, 51.45 (13) or 55.06 (2). This section does not restrict the power of the branch of circuit court in which the petition is filed to transfer the matter to the branch of circuit court assigned to exercise jurisdiction under ch. 51 in the county.
- (c) If a person is committed under s. 51.20 pursuant to a petition under par. (b), the county department under s. 51.42 or 51.437 to whose care and custody the person is committed shall notify the court which discharged the person under par. (a), the district attorney or the department of justice, whichever filed the petition, and the person's attorney of record in the proceeding under this chapter at least 14 days prior to transferring or discharging the person from an inpatient treatment facility and at least 14 days prior to the expiration of the order of commitment or any subsequent consecutive order, unless the department or county department has applied for an extension.
- (d) Counsel who have received notice under par. (c) or who otherwise obtain information that a person discharged under par. (a) may have become competent may move the court to order that the person undergo a competency examination under sub. (2). If the court so orders, a report shall be filed under sub. (3) and a hearing held under sub. (4). If the court determines that the person is competent, the proceedings on the petition shall be resumed. If the court determines that the person is not competent, it shall release him or her but may impose such reasonable nonmonetary conditions as will protect the public and enable the court and the department of justice or the district attorney, whichever filed the petition, to discover whether the person subsequently becomes competent.

Assuming the question of competency arises before the probable cause finding, should there be a separate examination focusing only on competency, with a later examination concerning the sexually violent person issues only after the person is competent? Or could both examinations be done at the same time? Should the standard for competency be the same as under s. 971.13 (which is copied in this draft) or is some other standard more appropriate for ch. 980? If the person is found to be incompetent to proceed, should he or she be treated like (and with) persons to finite under s. 971.14 (which is what this draft does) or should he or she be treated differently (given the nature of the ch. 980 proceedings)? Should the length of a commitment for incompetency to proceed under ch. 980 be different from the under s. 971.14, since a person under ch. 980 has no constitutional right to a speedy disposition? Finally, I assume that you want to specify that competency determinations should be made of persons subject to ch. 980 because, given the repeal of s. 980.05 (1m) by this draft, the right of a criminal defendant not to be tried unless competent will no longer apply to a person subject to a petition under ch. 980. Is that your intent?

NOTE: This provision does not refer to a "show cause hearing" because that does not make it completely clear whe is showing cause about what. Do you mean to say that the petitioner has the burden of showing that facts exist that warrant a hearing on whether the person is still a sexually violent person? If so, the prevision can be amended to say so. Or is it your intent to codify the "paper review" holding in In re Paulick, 213 Wis. 2d 432 (Ct. App. 1997)? If so, perhaps the provision should include language limiting the hearing to a review of the petition and the petitioner's recommination report (and other treatment records, if appropriate).

SECTION 59. 980.09 (2) (b) of the statutes is amended to read:

980.09 (2) (b) If the court determines at the probable cause hearing under par. The district attorney or the department of justice, whichever filed the original petition, shall represent the state at a hearing under this paragraph. The hearing under this paragraph shall be to the court. The district attorney or the department of justice, whichever filed the original petition, or the petitioner or his or her attorney may request that the hearing under this subsection be to a jury of 6. The state has the right to/have the committed person as provided under s. 980,031 (2) examined evaluated by experts chosen by the state. At the hearing, the state has the burden of proving by clear and convincing evidence that the committed person is still a sexually violent person.

10	allegations in the petition filed under s. 980.02 or concerning other matters at issue
11	in the proceeding and the names of witnesses to the person's written statements.
	*Note: Because these discovery provisions cover more than just trials under s. 980.05, this paragraph refers to statements "concerning other matters at issue in the proceeding". Is that language okay?
12	(b) A written summary of all oral statements of the person which the
13	prosecuting attorney plans to use in the course of the trial or other proceeding and
14	the names of witnesses to the person's oral statements.

- (i) Any physical evidence that the prosecuting attorney intends to offer in evidence at the trial.
