Under current law, state agencies are required to prepare and submit to the legislature various reports related to an agency's responsibilities or expertise. This bill eliminates, or transfers to other agencies, that requirement with respect to a number of reports that the department of commerce is required to prepare and submit. Under the bill, the department ~~will~~ no longer ~~be~~ required to ~~prepare or submit~~ ~~impact of the statutory requirements related to rental and employment data~~ ~~and the department be required to~~ publish a list of all aid programs and services made available by the state to communities. The requirement to report on the social, economic and financial effects and impact of tax incremental financing projects is transferred from the department of commerce to the department of revenue. The requirement to report on the various effects of lending by the Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority (WHEDA) for economic development projects is transferred from the department of commerce to WHEDA. a) It has been updated to reflect the two-year time lapse.

b) It does not include the repeal of s. 101.122 (6m), the report on rental unit energy efficiency.

c) It deletes the certification requirement under s. 234.65 (3m). By the way, does the language in s. 234.65 (3m) that refers to the department of commerce complying with sub. 2. Please note that the instructions requested the elimination of the report under s. 560.07 (2m). This draft does not treat that subsection (other than to renumber it for another reason) because there does not appear to be a report requirement under the subsection. COMMERCE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

Under current law, state agencies are required to prepare and submit to the legislature various reports related to an agency's responsibilities or expertise. This bill eliminates, or transfers to other agencies, that requirement with respect to a number of reports that the department of commerce is required to prepare and submit. Under the bill, the department is no longer required to publish a list of all aid programs and services made available by the state to communities. The requirement to report on the social, economic and financial effects and impact of tax incremental financing projects is transferred from the department of commerce to the department of revenue (DOR). The requirement to report on the various effects of lending by the Wisconsin Housing and Economic Development Authority (WHEDA) for economic development projects is transferred from the department of commerce to WHEDA. In addition, the department is no longer required to certify that each loan made by WHEDA for an economic development project complies with the conditions that must be met in order for WHEDA to make the loan. The requirement to report on the net jobs gain due to the funds provided to Forward

Wisconsin, Inc., is transferred from the department of commerce to Forward Wisconsin, Inc. Under the bill, the department of commerce is no longer required to report to the investment board on the types of investments in businesses that will have the greatest likelihood of enhancing economic development in this state. However, the investment board must include such a report in its plan for making investments in this state that it submits to the legislature every odd-numbered year. The investment board must consult with the department of commerce before submitting its plan that includes the report.
