WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT -- EMPLOYMENT, TRAINING
AND VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION PROGRAMS*Conforming State Law with the Federal Workforce Investment Act*Motion:

Move to conform state law with the provisions of the federal Workforce Investment Act. Eliminate the Governor's Council on Workforce Excellence and related statutory references and replace it with the Council on Workforce Investment. Provide that during the period between the effective date of this provision (the day after publication of the budget bill) and ending on June 30, 2000, all the functions of the Council on Workforce Excellence under the federal Job Training and Partnership Act would continue as functions of the Council of Workforce investment and all members of the Governor's Council of Workforce excellence serving on the day before the effective date would continue as members of the Council on Workforce Investment established under the federal Workforce Investment Act unless the Governor appointed members to replace them.

Provide that during the period beginning on the day after publication and ending on June 30, 2000 all functions of a private industry council that is established under the federal Job Training and Partnership Act for a service delivery area designated under federal law would continue as the functions of the local workforce development board established under the federal Workforce Investment Act for the identical local area. Provide that all members, assets and liabilities, tangible personal property, pending matters and contracts of a private industry council that is established under the federal Job Training and Partnership Act for a service delivery area designated under federal law would be transferred to the local workforce development board that is established under the federal Workforce Investment Act for the identical local area.

Replace statutory references to private industry councils with references to local workforce development boards. Replace statutory references to the federal Job Training and Partnership Act with references to the federal Workforce Investment Act. Eliminate the requirement that DWD coordinate services authorized under the federal Job Training and Partnership Act and provided by the Department of Public Instruction and Wisconsin Technical College System.

Specify that changes in statutory provisions related to adult programs would take effect on July 1, 2000, or the day after publication of the bill, whichever is later. Provide that modifications relating to youth programs would take effect on April 1, 2000, or the day after publication, whichever is later.

Note:

The federal Workforce Investment Act of 1998 (WIA), repeals the federal Job Training and Partnership Act (JTPA) effective on July 1, 2000. Under the WIA, federal funds are allocated to the state and, in turn, to local areas designated by the Governor to provide employment and training activities for adults, low-income youth and dislocated workers who remain attached to the workforce. To receive funding under the WIA, the Governor must establish a state workforce investment board to assist the Governor in administering the WIA in the state. The WIA also requires local workforce investment boards to be established in each local area to set policy for that portion of the statewide workforce investment system that is within the local area. This motion would conform current state law provisions with provisions of the federal Workforce Investment Act.

11 Act of 1998 and the repeal of the federal Job Training Partnership Act.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under the federal Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), federal funds are allocated to the state and, in turn, to substate service delivery areas designated by the governor to provide employment and training services for economically disadvantaged adults and youth and for dislocated workers, that is, workers who have lost their jobs and who are unlikely to return to their previous industry or occupation. To receive funding under the JTPA, the state must establish a job training coordinating council to assist the governor in planning, coordinating and monitoring the provision of programs and services under the JTPA. In this state, the governor's council on workforce excellence fills that role. The JTPA also requires private industry councils to be established in each service delivery area to provide policy guidance and oversight of the activities provided under the JTPA in the service delivery area.

The JTPA requires each private industry council, every two years, to submit to the governor a job training plan describing how the JTPA will be administered in the service delivery area and to make its proposed plan available to the public through such means as public hearings and to each house of the legislature not less than 120 days before the beginning of the two-year period covered by the plan. Similarly, the JTPA requires the governor, every two years, to submit to the federal secretary of labor a coordination and special services plan recommended by the state job training coordinating council describing the proposed use of all resources provided to the state under the JTPA for the two-year period covered by the plan. State law requires the governor's council on workforce excellence and each private industry council to make its proposed plan available to the public and to hold at least one public hearing before submitting the proposed plan to the governor and to submit notice of the public hearing and a copy of the proposed plan to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature at least 120 days before the beginning of the two-year period covered by the plan.

The U.S. Congress recently enacted the Workforce Investment Act of 1998 (WIA), which became effective on August 7, 1998, and under which the JTPA is repealed effective on July 1, 2000. Under the WIA, federal funds are allocated to the state and, in turn, to local areas designated by the governor to provide employment and training activities for adults (whether economically disadvantaged or not), low-income youth and dislocated workers who remain attached to the workforce. To receive funding under the WIA, the governor must establish a state workforce investment board to assist the governor in administering the WIA in the state. The WIA also requires local workforce investment boards to be established in each local area to set policy for that portion of the statewide workforce investment system that is within the local area.

The WIA requires each local workforce investment board, every five years, to submit to the governor a comprehensive local plan describing how the WIA will be administered in the local area, to make its proposed local plan available to the public through such means as public hearings and to allow members of the local board and members of the public to submit comments on the proposed local plan by no later than 30 days after the date on which the proposed local plan is made available. Similarly, the WIA requires the governor, every five years, to submit to the federal secretary of labor a state plan that outlines a five-year strategy for the state's workforce investment system and that includes a description of the process used by the state to provide an opportunity for public comment and input into the development of the plan prior to submission of the plan.

BILL

This bill conforms state law to the enactment of the WIA and the repeal of the JTPA. Specifically, the bill eliminates the governor's council on workforce excellence and replaces that council with the council on workforce investment established by the governor under the WIA. Similarly, the bill replaces all statutory references to a private industry council with a reference to a local workforce development board established under the WIA. In addition, the bill replaces all statutory references to the JTPA with references to the appropriate section of the WIA. Finally, to conform state law to the enactment of the WIA and the repeal of the JTPA, the bill eliminates a requirement that DWD coordinate services authorized under the JTPA and provided by the department of public instruction and the technical college system board to help eligible youth participants and eliminates the requirement that the governor's council on workforce excellence make its proposed coordination and special services plan under the JTPA available to the public, hold a public hearing on the proposed plan and submit the proposed plan to the appropriate standing committees of the legislature and the requirement that each private industry council do the same with its job training plan.
