Summary

Currently, the Student Achievement Guarantee in Education (SAGE) program is being evaluated in schools around the state. At the end of the 1998-99 school year the first grade schools will be finished with the SAGE evaluation. They will continue to receive SAGE funding to reduce class sizes.

who administers? 2-year program only?

This amendment creates a Direct Instruction Pilot Program. The current SAGE evaluation team at UW-Milwaukee will be used. Certain schools currently participating in the SAGE program will be used for the pilot program, as well as non-SAGE schools.

of what?

The program will evaluate the effects of the methodology both in conjunction with class size reduction and apart from class size reduction. SAGE program schools will be evaluated with pre and post tests. There will be control group schools as well in which the tests will be administered but the direct instruction will not be provided. There will be test schools as well as control group schools in the non-SAGE schools also.

The program will include:

1. Evaluation by the UW-Milwaukee team
2. Test development
3. Training for teachers in direct instruction techniques
4. Monitoring of the classrooms to ensure adherence to teaching techniques.
5. Purchase of classroom materials.

i.e. if there are other methods of improving reading scores?

The objective of the program is to determine if methodology apart from class size reduction can improve reading scores.

The amendment directs the Department of Public Instruction to fund $280,000 annually ($460,000 over the biennium) for the program from within the Goals 2000 grant program.

where's this $ now? (what source?)

Fiscal Impact None. The funding will come from the Goals 2000 grant program.
