SECTION 4. 287.31 (4) (e) of the statutes is created to read:

5 287.31 (4) (e) 1. The department may promulgate a rule under which the 6 department may reduce the target recycled content under sub. (3) (c) 3. or 4. for a year 7 to a percentage specified by the department in the rule that is not less than 33% for 8 the publisher of a newspaper if the department determines that it is not economically 9 feasible for the publisher to meet the target recycled content under sub. (3) (c) 3. or 10 4. for that year. To qualify for a reduction of the target recycled content, the publisher 11 of a newspaper shall demonstrate that the publisher qualifies for the reduction, shall 12 implement an environmental management system that the department determines 13 is appropriate to the business and equivalent to an environmental management 14 system that complies with the standards for environmental management systems 15 issued by the International Organization for Standardization, and shall implement 16 newsprint recycling or reuse activities that are acceptable to the department.

17 2. If the department promulgates a rule under subd. 1., the department may 18 increase the target recycled content specified in the rule for a subsequent year to a 19 percentage that is not greater than 40% if the department determines that it is 20 economically feasible for publishers of newspapers to meet the increased target 21 recycled content.
