2001 BILL

Regenerate

1 AN ACT to amend 66.0903 (3) (av), 66.0903 (10) (a), 103.49 (3) (ar) and 103.49
 2 (5) (a); and to create 103.50 (6m) of the statutes; relating to: the use of data
 3 from public works projects that are subject to the prevailing wage law in 4 determining the wage rates that must be paid to workers employed on those
 5 projects and public inspection of the payroll records of contractors,
 6 subcontractors, and agents performing work on those projects.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, certain laborers, workers, mechanics, and truck drivers employed on a state or local project of public works must be paid at the rate paid for a majority of the hours worked in the person's trade or occupation in the county in which the project is located (prevailing wage law). This bill makes certain changes relating to the data that may be used in determining the wage rates that must be paid under the prevailing wage law and public inspection of the payroll records of contractors, subcontractors, and contractor's and subcontractor's agents performing work on a project that is subject to the prevailing wage law.

* Specifically, under current law, the department of workforce development (DWD) must, by January 1 of each year, determine the prevailing wage rate for each trade or occupation in each area of the state. In determining prevailing wage rates for state public works projects, other than highway projects, and local public works projects, DWD may not use data from projects that are subject to the prevailing wage

The department of workforce development (DWD)

BILL

Specifically, under

~~law or its federal counterpart, the Davis-Bacon Act, unless there is insufficient wage data in an area to determine the prevailing wage rates for that area. In determining prevailing wage rates for state highway projects, DWD must use data from projects that are subject to the prevailing wage law or the Davis-Bacon Act. This bill permits DWD to use data from a project that is subject to the prevailing wage law or the Davis-Bacon Act in determining prevailing wage rates for state public works projects, other than highway projects, and local public works projects if DWD determines that the wage rate paid on that project is higher than the prevailing wage rate determined for that project.~~

~~Under~~ current law, each contractor, subcontractor, and contractor's or subcontractor's agent performing work on a project that is subject to the prevailing wage law must keep copies of payrolls and other records and information relating to compliance with the prevailing wage law and, on demand of ~~DWD~~, or, in the case of a state highway project, the department of transportation (DOT) must furnish those records and information to DWD or DOT. This bill requires a contractor, subcontractor, or contractor's or subcontractor's agent performing work on a project that is subject to the prevailing wage law, on the request of any person, to permit that person to inspect and copy any of those records to the same extent as if the record were maintained by DWD or DOT and subject to the open records law, except that the bill requires the contractor, subcontractor, or contractor's or subcontractor's agent to delete any personally identifiable information contained in the record about the laborer, worker, mechanic, or truck driver who is the subject of the record before permitting inspection and copying of the record.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
