Joe,

I agree with what you said as far as the "operating" language is concerned (Under the bill, no payment is made until the plant "is operating at a total power capacity of at least 50 megawatts." See page 12, lines 12 to 17, and page 13, lines 8 to 12. I believe the disputed language mentioned below relates to the calculation of the payment amount not to what conditions trigger the payment) and, as a matter of fact, so does John Stolzenberg. However, he does admit that that language can be perceived as somewhat ambiguous and could be considered inconsistent.

So, Rep. Hoven would like to introduce a simple amendment to the bill (and when I say simple, I mean really simple). If you could draft an amendment that would delete the words "general structures, and work-in-progress" from line's 21 & 22 on page 12, and lines 24 & 25 on page 13, that would be great. Whether that language would be consistent with 79.04 (1) (a) and 79.04 (2) (a), I'm not sure, but I'll leave that to the experts.

Also, if possible, it would be beneficial to get the draft back tomorrow for introduction before the executive session.

Thanks again,

Mike

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, generally, the property of a public utility is subject to a state tax rather than local property taxes. Instead of collecting property taxes on such property, municipalities and counties receive payments from the shared revenue account based on the value of public utility property located in the municipalities and counties. The amount of a municipality's payment is equal to the value of public utility property located in the municipality, not exceeding $125,000,000 for each utility, multiplied by either three mills, for a town, or six mills, for a city or village. However, the payment may not exceed an amount that is equal to $300 multiplied by the municipality's population. The amount of a county's payment is equal to the value of public utility property located in each municipality within the county, not exceeding $125,000,000 for each utility, multiplied by either three mills, for a city or village located within the county, or six mills, for a town located within the county. However, the amount of the county's payment may not exceed an amount that is equal to $100 multiplied by the county's population.

ASSEMBLY BILL 584

Under this bill, beginning in 2003, the payments to municipalities and counties related to public utility property is paid from the public utility distribution account, which is created by the bill, instead of the shared revenue account. Under the bill, the amount of a municipality's payment related to public utility property is equal to the value of public utility property located in the municipality, not exceeding the following amounts for each utility, multiplied by either three mills, for a town, or six mills, for a city or village: in 2003, $140,000,000; in 2004, $160,000,000; in 2005, $185,000,000; in 2006 and subsequent years, $250,000,000. However, the amount of the payment may not exceed the following amounts multiplied by the municipality's population: in 2003, $450; in 2004, $650; in 2005, $950; in 2006 and subsequent years, $1,200.

Under the bill, if a power production plant is built on the site of an existing or decommissioned power production plant or on brownfields, and operates at a power production capacity of at least 50 megawatts, the municipality in which the plant is located receives an additional payment equal to the value of the production plant, not exceeding the following amounts, multiplied by one mill, for a production plant that is neither coal-powered nor nuclear-powered, or by two mills, for a production plant that is coal-powered: in 2003, $140,000,000; in 2004, $160,000,000; in 2005, $185,000,000; in 2006 and subsequent years, $250,000,000.

Under the bill, the amount of a county's payment related to public utility property is equal to the value of public utility property located in the county, not exceeding the following amounts for each utility, multiplied by either three mills, for a city or village located within the county, or six mills, for a town located within the county: in 2003, $140,000,000; in 2004, $160,000,000; in 2005, $185,000,000; in 2006 and subsequent years, $250,000,000. However, the amount of the payment may not exceed the following amounts multiplied by the county's population: in 2003, $225; in 2004, $325; in 2005, $475; in 2006 and subsequent years, $600.

Under the bill, if a power production plant is built on the site of an existing or decommissioned power production plant or on brownfields, and operates at a power production capacity of at least 50 megawatts, the county in which the plant is located receives an additional payment equal to the value of the production plant, not exceeding the following amounts, multiplied by one mill, for any production plant that is not nuclear-powered: in 2003, $140,000,000; in 2004, $160,000,000; in 2005, $185,000,000; in 2006 and subsequent years, $250,000,000.

Under current law, if public utility property is decommissioned and thereby subject to local property taxes, the municipalities and counties in which the property is located no longer receive shared revenue payments based on the value of that property. Under the bill, shared revenue payments related to decommissioned utility property are phased out over five years.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
