Subject: Forestry Legislation

Mary -

As indicated on the voice mail message I left you, John would like to introduce legislation that would restore the forestry budget which was inadvertently vetoed along with the Department of Forestry veto. It was John's understanding that you were drafting something similar for Senator Breske.

However, John would like to include a measure to prevent further raids on the forestry account for unrelated purposes. This may have to involve changing the definition of "forestry" to more closely regulate spending.

Also, he would like to allow the forestry fund to be used to purchase "development rights" of forested land while leaving ownership in the hands of private persons.

Please telephone me if you should have any questions regarding this drafting request.

✓ 1. I have placed embedded notes in this preliminary draft for your review. The amounts and numbers of positions contained in this draft are based on figures given to me by Joe Polasek of DNR's budget office. I strongly suggest that you have this draft reviewed in its entirety, before introduction, by him or by the Fiscal Bureau, or by both.

2. The Legislative Fiscal Bureau has issued a general fund condition statement which concludes that there are insufficient moneys in the general fund to maintain the required general fund balance at the end of this fiscal biennium. The increase to the appropriation under s. 20.370 (7) (fa) in this draft affects general purpose revenue and could possibly result in a violation of s. 20.003 (4), stats.

You may wish to include a nonstatutory provision in this bill which states that s. 20.003 (4), stats., and the related provision found in 2001 Wisconsin Act 16, section 9101 (25j), do not apply to the action of the legislature in enacting this bill. Please note that s. 20.003 (4), stats., and 2001 Wisconsin Act 16, section 9101 (25j), are not legally enforceable, but rather constitute a rule of procedure under article IV, section 8, of the Wisconsin Constitution. The Wisconsin supreme court has held that the remedy for failing to comply with rules of procedures lies exclusively within the legislative branch. See State ex rel. La Follette v. Stitt, 114 Wis. 2d 358, 363-369 (1983). In other words, while rules of procedure may govern internal legislative procedure, courts will not enforce procedural rules, and the rules do not affect the validity of any enactment resulting from a procedure that may be viewed as contravening them. Therefore, including a nonstatutory provision in this bill would only be for the purpose of internal legislative operations, not for the purpose of ensuring the legality of the bill.

2001 BILL

Regen

1 AN ACT to renumber and amend 26.39 (4); and to create 26.39 (4) (b) of the
2 statutes; relating to: funding related to forestry for the department of natural
3 resources and making appropriations.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

The 2001-03 budget bill enacted by the state legislature created a department of forestry and transferred the division of forestry under the department of natural resources (DNR) and all of its related programs, operations, and employee positions to this new department. The effective date of the transfer was July 1, 2001. The governor vetoed these provisions. The veto included the elimination of the appropriations for the new department for fiscal year 2002-03. This bill increases the corresponding appropriations made to DNR and the corresponding employee positions under DNR that relate to this division and these programs and operations for fiscal year 2002-03 to restore the funding to DNR for fiscal year 2002-03.

Under current law, DNR may sell planting stock for forest and woodlot planting. Under current law, a purchaser of such planting stock must pay a two-cent seedling surcharge for each seedling, which is in addition to the price of the seedling. Beginning on July 1, 2002, the surcharge is raised to three cents. Under current law, these moneys are used for the development of a forestry education curriculum for grades kindergarten through 12 and for developing a program to educate the public about the value of sustainable forestry, which is the management of forest ecosystems so that they provide future benefits. The bill changes the allocation of these moneys so that beginning with fiscal year 2002-03 50% of the moneys are appropriated for a forestry education curriculum and 50% are appropriated for the sustainable forestry program. Under current law, an amount totaling not more than $300,000 is appropriated for the development of the school curriculum, with the balance going to educating the public about sustainable forestry.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.

2001 BILL

to be

1 AN ACT to renumber and amend 26.39 (4); and to create 26.39 (4) (b) of the
2 statutes; relating to: funding related to forestry for the department of natural
3 resources and making appropriations.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

The 2001-03 budget bill enacted by the state legislature created a department of forestry and transferred the division of forestry under the department of natural resources (DNR) and all of its related programs, operations, and employee positions to this new department. The effective date of the transfer was July 1, 2001. The governor vetoed these provisions. The veto included the elimination of the appropriations for the new department for fiscal year 2002-03. This bill increases the corresponding appropriations made to DNR and the corresponding employee positions under DNR that relate to this division and these programs and operations for fiscal year 2002-03 to restore the funding to DNR for fiscal year 2002-03.

Under current law, DNR may sell planting stock for forest and woodlot planting. Under current law, a purchaser of such planting stock must pay a two-cent seedling surcharge for each seedling, which is in addition to the price of the seedling. Beginning on July 1, 2002, the surcharge is raised to three cents. Under current law, these moneys are used for the development of a forestry education curriculum for grades kindergarten through 12 and for developing a program to educate the public about the value of sustainable forestry, which is the management of forest ecosystems so that they provide future benefits. The bill changes the allocation of these moneys so that beginning with fiscal year 2002-03 50% of the moneys are appropriated for a forestry education curriculum and 50% are appropriated for the sustainable forestry program. Under current law, an amount totaling not more than $300,000 is appropriated for the development of the school curriculum, with the balance going to educating the public about sustainable forestry.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
