2 radio service providers.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under this bill, if a customer terminates service with a wireless telecommunications provider, which is referred to under federal and state law as a commercial mobile radio service provider, and the customer provides written or oral notice to that provider of the customer's new telephone number with another wireless telecommunications provider, then the customer's former wireless telecommunications provider must inform persons who make calls to the customer's old telephone number with the former wireless telecommunications provider of the customer's new telephone number. The duty to inform callers about the new telephone number lasts for a period of ~~6~~^{six} weeks after the former wireless telecommunications provider receives notice of the new telephone number.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows: as affected by 2001 Wisconsin Act 16,

3 SECTION 1. 196.202 (2) of the statutes is amended to read:

5 such rules, a commercial mobile radio service provider shall respond, subject to the 6 protection of the commercial mobile radio service provider's competitive
7 information, to all reasonable requests for information about its operations in this 8 state from the commission necessary to administer the universal service fund.
