Currently the state counts various public education related expenditures to calculate the state's share of funding 2/3 of public education costs. The state expends over $8 million on educating youths in Juvenile Correction institutions. However, this educational expenditure is not counted toward the state's share of 2/3 of educational costs. By counting the $8 million towards 2/3 funding of public schools, the state could reduce general public school aids and save $2.6 million GPR.

[Redacted]

$2.6 million GPR annually.

Fiscal impact is savings of $2.6 million GPR in 2002-03.

(define state aid to include $7.7 million expended for educating youth in Juvenile Corrections; reduce general aid number by $2,600,000.)
