Subject: RE: Safe Harbor for Abandoned Babies--LRB-0659/3

Gordon,

Thanks for the draft. I don't know if I am allowed to request this or not, but we would like to have a companion bill go out in the Senate. The bill will be sponsored by Senator Brian Burke with Senator Peggy Rosenzweig as the second. We would like a draft sent to them and would like to include that LRB number on our cosponsorship memo. If this is possible, that would be great. If it's not, could you tell me who has to request the draft?

Thanks and have a good weekend.

Erin

2001 BILL

1 Gen. Cat.
AN ACT to renumber and amend 48.42 (2m); to amend 48.355 (2d) (c), 48.38
2 (4) (a), 48.38 (5) (c) 7. and 48.977 (2) (f); and to create 48.13 (2m), 48.195, 48.355
3 (2d) (b) 5., 48.415 (1m) and 48.42 (2m) (b) of the statutes; relating to:
4 relinquishing custody of a newborn child and granting rule-making authority.

Analysis by the Legislative Reference Bureau

Under current law, a child may be taken into custody under various circumstances, including circumstances under which a law enforcement officer believes on reasonable grounds that the child is in immediate danger from his or her surroundings and removal from those surroundings is necessary. If the child is not returned to his or her parents, the person taking the child into custody must deliver the child to the intake worker of the court assigned to exercise jurisdiction under the Children's Code (juvenile court). The intake worker must then determine whether to release the child or hold the child in custody. The intake worker may determine to hold the child in custody if certain grounds exist for holding the child in custody, for example, there is probable cause to believe that the child is within the jurisdiction of the juvenile court and that the child's parent is unavailable to provide care and supervision for the child and services to ensure the child's safety and well-being are not available or would be inadequate. If the intake worker determines to hold the child in custody, a hearing must be held to determine whether the child shall continue to be held in custody, and a petition alleging that the child is in need of protection or services must be filed with the juvenile court.

BILL

If the child is found to be in need of protection or services, the juvenile court may impose certain dispositions to maintain and protect the well-being of the child, including placing the child in a foster home and transferring legal custody of the child to the county department of human services or social services, a licensed child welfare agency, or, in Milwaukee County, the department of health and family services (DHFS). If the child is placed outside of the child's home, the agency primarily responsible for providing services for the child, subject to certain exceptions, must make reasonable efforts to make it possible for the child to return safely to his or her home and may, at the same time as the agency is making those efforts, make reasonable efforts to place the child for adoption, with a guardian, or in some other alternative permanent placement. Before a child may be adopted, however, the juvenile court must terminate the parental rights of the child's parents. A termination of parental rights (TPR) may be ordered either with the voluntary consent of the child's parents or involuntarily. For the juvenile court to order an involuntary TPR, certain grounds must be proven, among them, abandonment.

This bill permits a child whom a law enforcement officer, emergency medical technician, or hospital staff member reasonably believes to be 72 hours old or younger (newborn child) to be taken into custody under circumstances in which a parent of the newborn child relinquishes custody of the newborn child to the law enforcement officer, emergency medical technician, or hospital staff member and does not express an intent to return for the newborn child. The bill also permits a parent who wishes to relinquish a newborn child, but who is unable to travel to a place where a law enforcement officer, emergency medical technician, or hospital staff member is located, to call "911" and requires the person receiving the call to dispatch a law enforcement officer or emergency medical technician to meet the parent and take the newborn child into custody. A law enforcement officer, emergency medical technician, or hospital staff member who takes a newborn child into custody must take any action necessary to protect the health and safety of the newborn child and, within 24 hours after taking the newborn child into custody, deliver the newborn child to the intake worker.

A parent who relinquishes his or her newborn child under the bill and any person who assists the parent in that relinquishment have the right to leave at any time and to remain anonymous, and no person may follow or pursue the parent or person assisting the parent or induce or coerce a parent or person assisting a parent who wishes to remain anonymous into revealing his or her identity, unless the person has reasonable cause to suspect that the child has been the victim of abuse or neglect. The bill also prohibits any officer, employee, or agent of the state or a political subdivision of the state from attempting to locate or ascertain the identity of a parent who relinquishes custody of his or her newborn child under the bill or any person who assists the parent in that relinquishment, unless the officer, employee, or agent has reasonable cause to suspect that the child has been the victim of abuse or neglect. In addition, the bill provides for the confidentiality, subject to certain exceptions, of all records relating to the relinquishment of a newborn child under the bill.

The bill requires a law enforcement officer, an emergency medical technician, or a hospital staff member who takes a newborn child into custody to make available to the parent who relinquishes custody of the child the maternal and child health toll-free telephone number maintained by DHFS under the federal Maternal and Child Health Services Block Grant Act and the telephone number of the local health department. The decision whether to accept that information is entirely voluntary on the part of the parent, and no person may induce or coerce a parent into accepting that information.

The bill grants a parent who relinquishes custody of his or her newborn child under the bill and any person who assists a parent in that relinquishment immunity from any civil or criminal liability for any good faith act or omission in connection with that relinquishment, including immunity for exercising the right to remain anonymous, the right to leave at any time, and the right not to accept any information made available to the parent and immunity from prosecution for abandonment of a child or for neglecting a child. Similarly, the bill grants a law enforcement officer, an emergency medical technician, or a hospital staff member immunity from any civil or criminal liability for any good faith act or omission occurring within the scope of his or her duties under the bill.

Finally, the bill permits a juvenile court to exercise jurisdiction over a newborn child who has been relinquished under the bill and who is alleged to be in need of protection or services and to grant an involuntary TPR over a newborn child on the grounds that custody of the newborn child has been relinquished under the bill.

For further information see the state and local fiscal estimate, which will be printed as an appendix to this bill.
