Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

The action of intentionally marking, drawing, writing or etching on another persons property without their concent is already a crime. Thus there will be no increase in the number of cases that are referred to District Attorneys' offices in Wisconsin. It is possible that the number of these cases where a trial is needed rather than a plea accepted will increase given the increase in penalties, but that number of additional jury trials is unknown.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

Should be monitored to determine if additional prosecutorial resources will be needed.
