John--The pharmacy examining board does not have the authority to draft rules concerning the pharmacy internship program. If you want the board to have the power, it will have to be included in the amendment. Is that your intent, namely to have the examining board direct the program in place of the pharmacy internship board?

"Doug,

It is my understanding the Pharmacy Society has clarified that the Pharmacy Examining Board can draft rules to have whatever kind of oversight they want with interns and that these previous concerns have now gone away. I have communicated with Tom Engels from Pharmacy Society to verify that this was true and he said yes but I told him it would be better if that info came from him to you, not me, since I was not part of the conversations the Pharmacy folks have had together. I think everybody is OK- at least that is my understanding.
Thanks for asking. "
