8. Brownfields and Contaminated Land

A. Local Governments and Property Owners of Brownfield Sites

This amendment creates legislation to include several items included in a brownfields study group dealing with liability exemptions for local governments and property owners of brownfield sites.

Ra

This amendment would grant property owners a liability exemption in certain situations regarding brownfield sites.

These four provisions were the same as proposed by the Brownfields Study Group and supported by Governor McCallum in his budget.

- 1) Allow local governments a liability exemption if the property was acquired through the Nelson Stewardship 2000 program.
- 2) Provide liability exemption to a voluntary party who has sold the property even if the new owner fails to maintain and monitor the property as required by the DNR.
- 3) Specify that liability exemption is available for hazardous substances in sediments that originates off the property.
- 4) Voluntary parties could receive liability exemption from soil contamination that originated off-site. The voluntary party would be eligible to obtain a full certification of clean up and exemption from future liability.

Fiscal Impact: None

Sorry it took me so long to get back to you. This should be a loan, not a grant.

Subject: ARC budget item

I am the environmental drafter at the LRB. I need to draft the ARC environmental package item about providing water towers for the villages of Athens and Weston using Wisconsin Fund residual bonding authority. The other Wisconsin Fund residual bonding authority projects have been structured as loans, see s. 281.57 (10m) to (10t) of the statutes. Should this item be drafted as a loan or a grant? Also, do these projects involve building water towers or do they involve some other sort of water tower "project"?
