Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

This bill specifies that employers must allow all employees, with certain exceptions, to return to employment after service in the national guard or state defense force. Employees who are denied re-employment, or are about to be denied, may file a complaint with the department, either directly or through the adjutant general. The Equal Rights Division of the Department of Workforce Development would process these complaints in the same manner as a complaint under the Wisconsin Fair employment Law (111.39 stats.) The division estimates that it will receive less than ten cases per year that allege violations of this provision. Passage of this legislation would therefore have no significant impact on the workload of the division. Informational brochures on the law that are published by the Equal Rights Division will need to be reprinted at a cost of $2,000 GPR. This cost will be absorbed by the agency.

This bill is also unlikely to have any significant impact on local government costs since only the small number of local governments that have a related case would have costs.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications

The department expects no long range fiscal impact.
