Establishing an outdoor wildlife heritage trust fund

Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

Bill Summary:

This bill creates a trust fund designated as the Wisconsin outdoor wildlife heritage trust fund to consist of all gifts, bequests or contributions made to fund programs and activities related to fish and game regulations and the regulation of certain plants.

Fiscal Estimate:

Revenues in this fund will come in total from gifts, bequests and contributions, and it is not possible to determine the amount of money that would be deposited. Receipts would be based on the time and ability of Department staff to do fund raising within the statutory authorities for fund raising activities. Currently, the Wildlife Management, Fisheries & Habitat and Endangered Resources programs receive gifts and donations for very specific projects which usually are completed in a short timeframe, typically less than one year. There is no experience in receiving contributions for investment over the long term and expenditure on future projects. Therefore, the Department cannot estimate the revenues or interest which would accrue to this appropriation.

There would be minimal costs to administer the fund, but the costs cannot be estimated at this time.
