Except as provided in par. (d), a revision under this section of a judgment or order with respect to an amount of child or family support may be made only upon a finding of a substantial change in circumstances. In any action under this section to revise a judgment or order with respect to maintenance payments, a substantial change in the cost of living by either party or as measured by the federal bureau of labor statistics may be sufficient to justify a revision of judgment or order with respect to the amount of maintenance, except that a change in an obligor's cost of living is not in itself sufficient if payments are expressed as a percentage of income.

3           SECTION 81. 767.33 (1) (c), (2), (3) (a) and (b) and (4) (b), (c) (intro.) and (d) of

5 of the stipulation of the parties.

6 (3) (a) If the payer’s income changes from the amount found by the court or 7 family circuit court commissioner or stipulated to by the parties for the current child 8 or family support order, the parties may implement an adjustment under this section 9 by stipulating, on the form under sub. (2), to the changed income amount and the 10 adjusted child or family support amount, subject to sub. (1) (b).

11 (b) The stipulation form must be signed by all parties, including the state if the 12 state is a real party in interest under s. 767.075 (1), and filed with the court. If the 13 stipulation is approved, the order shall be signed by a judge or family circuit court 14 commissioner and implemented in the same manner as an order for a revision under 15 s. 767.32. An adjustment under this subsection shall be effective as of the date on 16 which the order is signed by the judge or family circuit court commissioner.

17 (4) (b) If the court or family circuit court commissioner determines after a 18 hearing that an adjustment should be made, the court or family circuit court 19 commissioner shall enter an order adjusting the child or family support payments

21 to sub. (1) (b). An adjustment under this subsection may not take effect before the 22 date on which the party responding to the motion, petition, or order to show cause 23 received notice of the action under this subsection.

24 (c) (intro.) Notwithstanding par. (b), the court or family circuit court 25 commissioner may direct that all or part of the adjustment not take effect until such

ASSEMBLY BILL 936

1 time as the court or family circuit court commissioner directs, if any of the following

4 commissioner determines that a party has unreasonably failed to provide the 5 information required under sub. (1) (c) or to provide the information on a timely 6 basis, or unreasonably failed or refused to sign a stipulation for an annual 7 adjustment, the court or family circuit court commissioner may award to the 8 aggrieved party actual costs, including service costs, any costs attributable to time 9 missed from employment, the cost of travel to and from court, and reasonable 10 attorney fees.
