Assumptions Used in Arriving at Fiscal Estimate

SB 42 will increase the WERC's caseload but the WERC will be able to absorb the increased caseload with its existing staff.

The availability of interest arbitration will increase the likelihood that employees not now represented for the purposes of collective bargaining will choose to become represented. The availability of interest arbitration will also increase the cost of contract settlements covering union represented employees. Therefore, SB 42 will increase the costs of towns, villages and cities with populations of under 2,500.

Long-Range Fiscal Implications
