AGENCY REPORTS

State of Wisconsin
Legislative Audit Bureau
Madison

December 4, 2002

To the Honorable, the Legislature:

We have completed a biennial performance evaluation of the Department of Administration's Division of Gaming, as required by s. 13.94(1)(eg), Wis. Stats. The Division regulates the State's Indian gaming, pari-mutuel racing, and charitable gaming activities. In FY 2001-02, its expenditures totaled $3.8 million in program revenue.

Indian gaming represents the most significant gaming activity in Wisconsin and is the State's largest source of gaming revenue. In 2001, tribal gaming revenue totaled $970.9 million, and tribal gaming profits totaled $428.3 million. Under the terms of renegotiated compacts that took effect from 1998 through 2000, tribal revenue from gaming activities has increased, and the tribes have provided more revenue to the State: in addition to annual payments of $350,000 to help fund oversight and regulatory activities, they have agreed to pay $24.0 million in FY 2000-01 and again in FY 2001-02. These payments are to be used for purposes that include economic development initiatives to benefit Native Americans in Wisconsin and tourism marketing.

The Division conducts three types of reviews – compliance audits, financial audits, and inventory reviews – to monitor gaming activities at tribal casinos. However, it has not conducted each type of review for all casinos. For example, the Division has conducted financial audits but not compliance audits at three casinos that account for 27.1 percent of the 14,354 electronic gaming devices operating in Wisconsin in August 2002. Compliance audits determine conformity with compact provisions. We have included recommendations to improve the Division's oversight of Indian gaming and have provided options the Legislature and the Governor may wish to consider for strengthening the Division's regulatory authority.

Declining attendance at Wisconsin's two remaining racetracks has contributed to a decline in racing revenue for the State. Revenue from bingo and crane games has also declined in recent years.

We appreciate the courtesy and cooperation extended to us by the Department of Administration's Division of Gaming. The Division's response is Appendix 4.

Respectfully submitted,
JANICE MUELLER
State Auditor
